

Mebbe Sodini, He Skippa Da Bond: Go Back To Italee

Sureties on the bond of Fritz Sodini, convicted in federal court of violating the Reed amendment, paid to the clerk of the United States district court $1,000 Saturday morning when Sodini failed to appear for sentence before Judge John E. McCall.

A forfeiture was also taken in the case of the United States against C. P. Powers, violation of the Reed amendment. Powers was convicted in federal court several months ago and gave notice of an appeal to the circuit court of appeals. He failed to perfect his appeal and his case was called Saturday morning.

Upon his failure to appear in court preliminary forfeiture was taken. He was under bond of $500. His bondsmen have until the next term of court to produce him or the forfeiture will be made final.

CARPENTERS DEMAND DOLLAR AN HOUR

One dollar an hour is the scale of wages which the local carpenters' union has demanded of the local contractors, beginning April 1. The carpenters' union scale is now 85 cents an hour.

E. W. G. Meers, secretary of the Builders' exchange, who received a copy of the new wage demand, declared that his organization would not act upon it as it does not affect them. The 55 contractors represented by the organization have not been employing union carpenters since the strike of last fall. Mr. Meers said that the proposed increase does not interest them. He said also that 10 other contractors in the city are not at present employing union carpenters.

The Builders' exchange has received demands for increased wages, taking effect April 1, from nearly all the trades unions in the city. The demands range from 20 to 30 per cent of the present scales of wages.

PAY BILLS PROMPTLY CREDIT MEN'S SLOGAN

The pay-your-bills-promptly idea was the burden of the message to the people by the Retail Credit Men's association on Saturday, officially designated as pay-your-bills-promptly day. The day was set aside in connection with National Thrift week. The campaign to have all adopt the custom of paying bills promptly by the tenth of each month subsequent to purchase of goods and services is being carried on by the citizens of Memphis who do not pay bills promptly is forcibly made in the communication, the public Saturday, and appreciation is expressed to those who have established the habit.

SATURDAY CHILD LABOR DAY ALL OVER NATION

Saturday was designated as child labor day throughout the nation and those interested in the subject were expected to begin a new movement to educate the public to the better observance of the child labor laws, both of the nation and of the states.

Tennessee has such a law, modeled upon the national law, which has passed the tests of the courts and which is strictly enforced. Children under 14 may not be employed except on farms or in household about the home. From 14 to 16 children may work eight hours a day, but only when permits are obtained from the County superintendent of schools, with certificates as to character. Such children may not work at night, or near dangerous machinery. Boys under 18 are not allowed to be employed as messengers after 10 at night.

26 STILL AT WORKHOUSE ON LOITERING CHARGES

There are 26 persons at the county workhouse serving out sentences for conviction under the city loitering ordinance, according to Supt. W. L. Kearney Saturday. Only two have secured their liberty under the ruling of Judge F. M. Guthrie that the ordinance is unconstitutional.

In a petition for habeas corpus proceedings filed subsequent to ruling of Judge Guthrie that the ordinance was unconstitutional, the city attorney admitted the facts alleged in the petition and the prisoner was released by consent of parties at interest.

No move has been made on the part of the city, so far as can be learned, to have the other 24 persons released from the workhouse, despite the fact that the city has admitted that the ordinance under which they were convicted is not constitutional.

LEGAL AID TO POOR PROPOSED BY ATTORNEY

Establishment of a legal aid society in Memphis to provide legal services for persons unable to employ a lawyer, was recommended by W. P. Armstrong, city attorney, in a report on the question made to the City club at its regular luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday. Mr. Armstrong made his report as the chairman of a committee of the City club.

Mr. Armstrong's plan contemplates the regular employment by the society of a competent attorney to advise with those who find it necessary to seek legal aid without cost. It is his belief that there is much opportunity for such work in the matter of small claims which poor people have which they are often unable to push because of their inability to employ an attorney. The practice of a court's assigning legal aid in civil cases to persons who can not pay for it has become obsolete, Mr. Armstrong said, therefore making no legal aid available to the poor from that source. Legal aid societies are being successfully conducted with great benefit to the poor in many cities, he said.
